1. Welcome & Introduction

Karin Huber-Srb (in representation for Hans-Christian Vallant, chairman of the committee)

Karin Huber-Srb welcomes the members of the Marketing Committee and presents the agenda.

2. Climate protection in the housing finance industry

Sebastian Metzger (co2 online)

The first speaker, Sebastian Metzger, has been invited from Berlin. He is the managing director of the company "co2online".

The non-profit consulting company co2online GmbH is committed to help private households to reduce carbon dioxide. With various campaigns concerning ecological topics, private households are intended to be motivated to reduce their energy consumption.

The main topics of co2online are saving electricity and heating energy, modernizing and the appropriate funding, because there is particularly great potential for the reduction of CO2 emissions in the building sector.

After a short presentation of the company, Mr. Metzger informs about the role of political measures, e.g. subsidies, for climate protection.

Afterwards, Mr. Metzger gives interesting examples for the economic viability of energy-efficient renovation of buildings.

The presentation with detailed information and practical examples can be found on the EFBS website.

Karin Huber-Srb thanks Mr. Metzger for the interesting speech and announces the next topic on the agenda.

3. Podcast "Planspiel.Wohnen"

Andrea-Pelinka-Kinz (Raiffeisen Bank International AG)

Andrea Pelinka-Kinz is spokeswoman for Raiffeisen Bausparkasse and Head of Channel Management & Subsidiaries Austria at RBI Group.

Andrea Pelinka-Kinz presents the podcast series of Raiffeisen Bausparkasse which was launched this year. The podcast is about sustainability in building and living and for each episode, an expert is invited. For example, in the last episode, Leonore Gewessler, the Austrian Federal Minister for Climate Protection, Environment, Energy, Mobility, Innovation and Technology was invited to speak about sustainable housing.

More details can be found in the presentation. After the meeting of the committee, the link to the Podcast has been sent to all participants.

The presentations are available on the EFBS website.

Karin Huber-Srb once again thanks the speakers as well as the participants for the interesting contributions and closes the meeting.
